Mayor Percy J. Brown

Office of the Mayor

City Hall / 100 Broad Avenue
Bluff City, Ohio

June 30, 2008

Dear Bluff City Citizens:

Things were quiet here at Bluff City city hall in June. It was probably a little too quiet, but I took advantage of the calm and went on my summer vacation with the missus and two of our children. I left Stanley Stanlovski, your city manager, in charge while I was gone. I'm proud to report that no major dilemmas cropped up in my absence and Stanley had nothing out of the ordinary to deal with, so he did a fine job of running Bluff City while I was gone!

If you see Stanley out and about in Bluff City, please take a moment to pat him on the back and congratulate him on a job well done. And then thank whatever deity you personally choose to worship that nothing dramatic happened in Bluff City in June, as that would have required Stanley to step up in a crisis leadership role, which means he would've called me and my vacation would've been cut short and ruined.

Also, I'm trying out new tag lines for Bluff City, as part of our upcoming marketing campaign to attract more tourist dollars. Drop me an email through the web site and let me know what you think. Here's the first one. I came up with it myself!

“You live in Bluff City, so try to live well.”

Sincerely,
Percy J. Brown
Your Honorable Mayor
